Rangeland Energy Forms Rangeland Midstream Canada, Ltd. to Pursue Midstream Opportunities in Western Canada

- Rangeland Midstream Canada, Ltd. (“Rangeland Canada”) opens office in Calgary.
- Edmonton native and industry veteran Briton W. Speer joins Rangeland Canada as vice president, business development.
- Rangeland Canada will focus on providing comprehensive midstream services to oil and gas producers in the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin.

SUGAR LAND, Texas, and CALGARY, Alberta – September 6, 2016 – Rangeland Energy (“Rangeland” or “the Company”) today announced that it has formed a Canadian subsidiary to pursue midstream opportunities in Western Canada. Rangeland Midstream Canada, Ltd is led by industry veteran Briton W. Speer, who joined Rangeland Canada in August as vice president, business development. Headquartered in Calgary, Rangeland Canada’s operational expertise spans the midstream value chain and includes gathering, compression, treating, processing and storage services for multiple commodities including natural gas, crude oil and natural gas liquids (NGLs).

“We are excited to bring Rangeland’s proven experience and expertise to the Western Canadian Sedimentary Basin,” said Mr. Speer. “Rangeland is committed to working alongside producers to provide timely and creative midstream solutions that access downstream markets and allow producers to concentrate on growing their production. We are committed to setting ourselves apart by offering competitive commercial terms that equitably share value and risk and an unwavering commitment to high-quality service that meets customers' changing needs.”

“Rangeland Midstream Canada is proud to have the opportunity to serve the resourceful and resilient producer community here in Calgary,” said Rangeland Chief Commercial Officer John R. Millar. “We’re also proud that Brit Speer has joined the Rangeland family. Brit brings a wealth of midstream experience and talent to Rangeland Canada, and he shares our commitment to safe and responsible operations that respect the community and protect the environment.”

About Briton W. Speer
